

Simon Vertullo Interim Chief Financial Officer, Alliance Airlines

Simon Vertullo, CA GAICD is the Interim Chief Financial Officer of Alliance Airlines and an experienced finance executive, Chartered Accountant, and board adviser with more than 20 years of experience across Australia, Asia and Europe. He has held senior CFO, executive leadership and advisory roles with listed and private companies, specialising in corporate finance, restructuring, governance, strategic transactions and business transformation.

Simon has extensive experience leading finance and treasury functions, advising boards and stakeholders through complex commercial challenges, and delivering successful turnaround, refinancing and growth initiatives. Known for his practical and commercially focused approach, he provides strategic financial leadership and governance support to organisations navigating change, operational improvement and long-term value creation.